TIC TIC TIC TIC

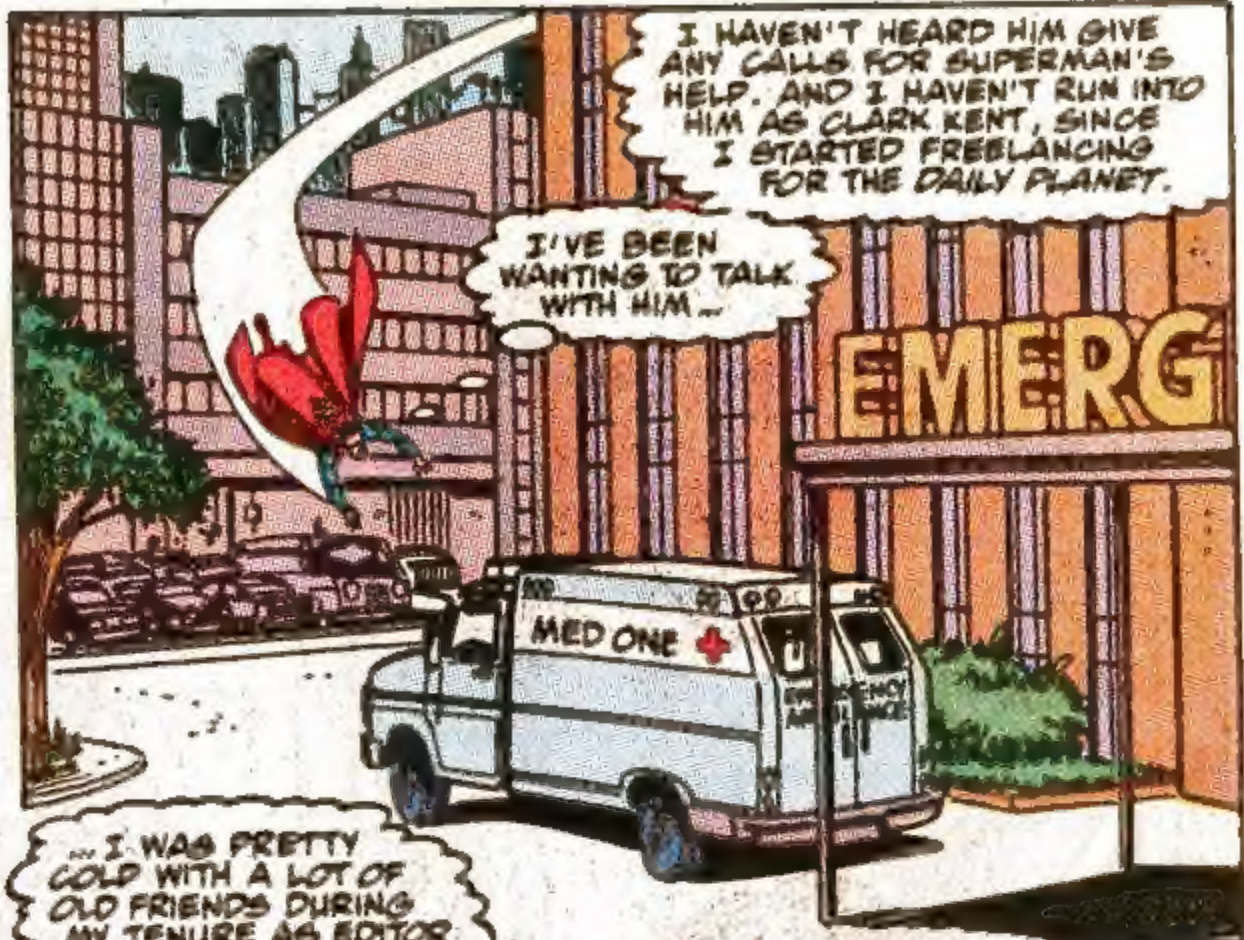

... WHERE WAS SUPERMAN?

I HAVEN'T BEEN AROUND MUCH FOR JIM LATELY, IN EITHER OF MY IDENTITIES.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, I HAVEN'T EVEN SEEN HIM SINCE I HELPED RESCUE HIS MOTHER.

#IN SUPERMAN #43.

I HAVEN'T HEARD HIM GIVE ANY CALLS FOR SUPERMAN'S HELP. AND I HAVEN'T RUN INTO HIM AS CLARK KENT, SINCE I STARTED FREELANCING FOR THE DAILY PLANET.

I'VE BEEN WANTING TO TALK WITH HIM...

... I WAS PRETTY COLD WITH A LOT OF OLD FRIENDS DURING MY TENURE AS EDITOR OF NEWSTIME... I STILL OWE JIM AN APOLOGY...

... I PRAY THERE'S STILL TIME TO MAKE IT...

... I WONDER WHO THE 'OTHER BOY' WAS?

JERRY WAS A FRIEND OF MINE, MR. WHITE. IF ONLY I HADN'T BEEN SO WRAPPED UP IN MYSELF... IF ONLY I'D KNOWN... IT'S BEEN A MONTH SINCE I SAW HIM LAST...

IT'S BEEN LONGER FOR US, DELGADO...

... THE LAST TIME I SAW MY SON, WE HAD AN ARGUMENT. SEEMS LIKE HE AND I WERE ALWAYS ARGUING. ALL I WANT NOW IS A CHANCE TO TELL HIM I'M SORRY... TO LET HIM KNOW HOW MUCH WE LOVE HIM.

HEY, DON'T WORRY ABOUT THAT! THE DOCTORS HERE ARE TOPS...

... YOU'LL GET THAT CHANCE.

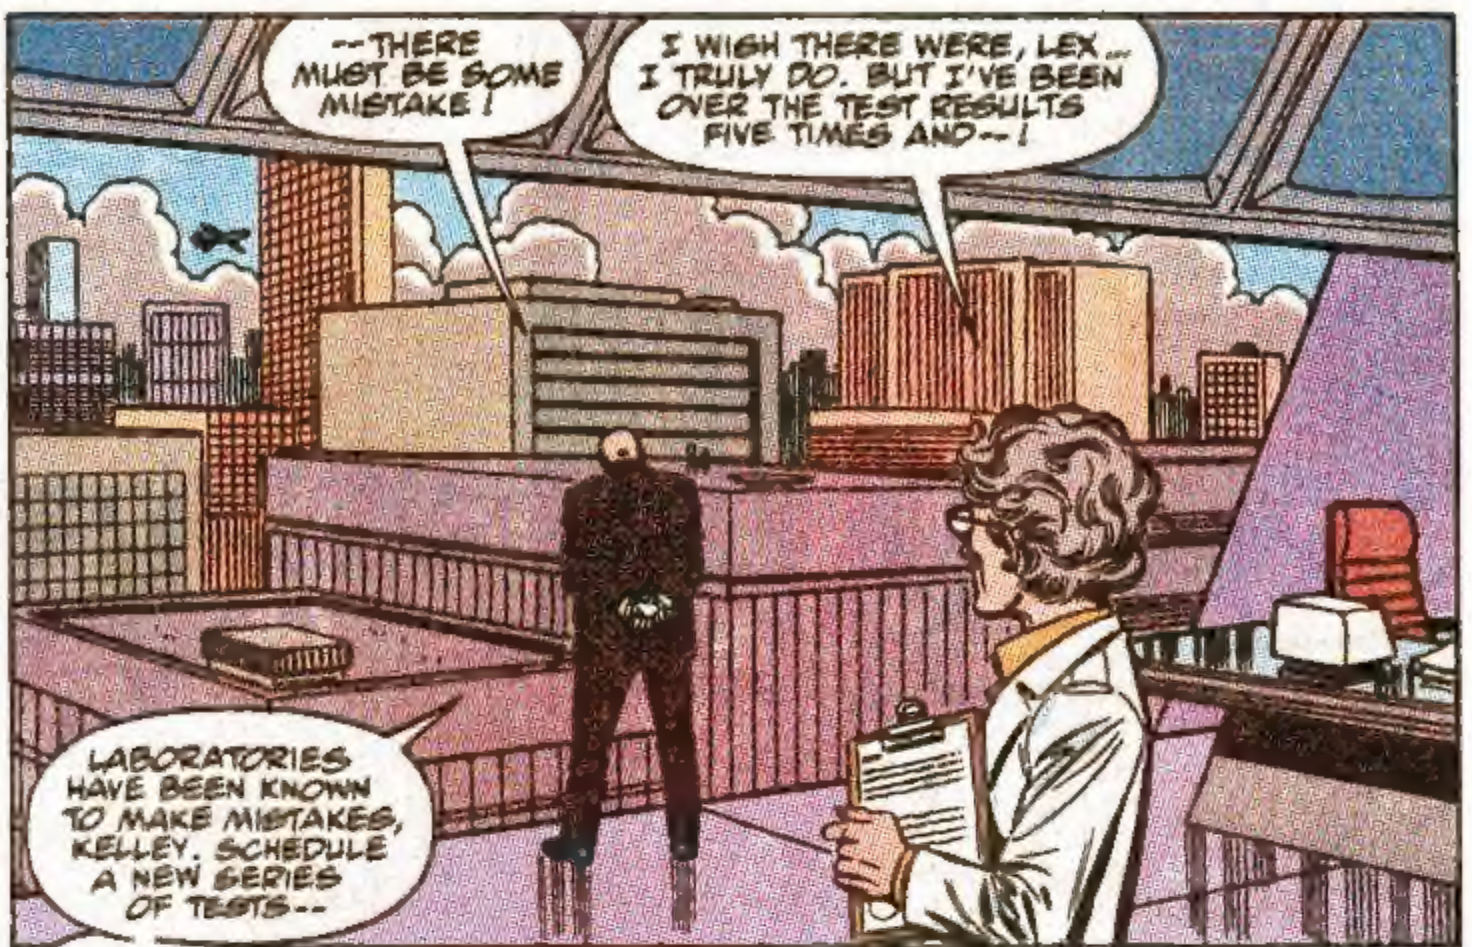

"--BUT I'M AFRAID THERE'S CAUSE FOR GRAVE CONCERN."

NO! I WON'T ACCEPT THAT-- --THERE MUST BE SOME MISTAKE!

I WISH THERE WERE, LEX... I TRULY DO. BUT I'VE BEEN OVER THE TEST RESULTS FIVE TIMES AND--!

LABORATORIES HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO MAKE MISTAKES, KELLEY. SCHEDULE A NEW SERIES OF TESTS--

--AND THIS TIME, DO THE LAB WORK YOURSELF!

BUT--!

THAT WILL BE ALL, KELLEY!

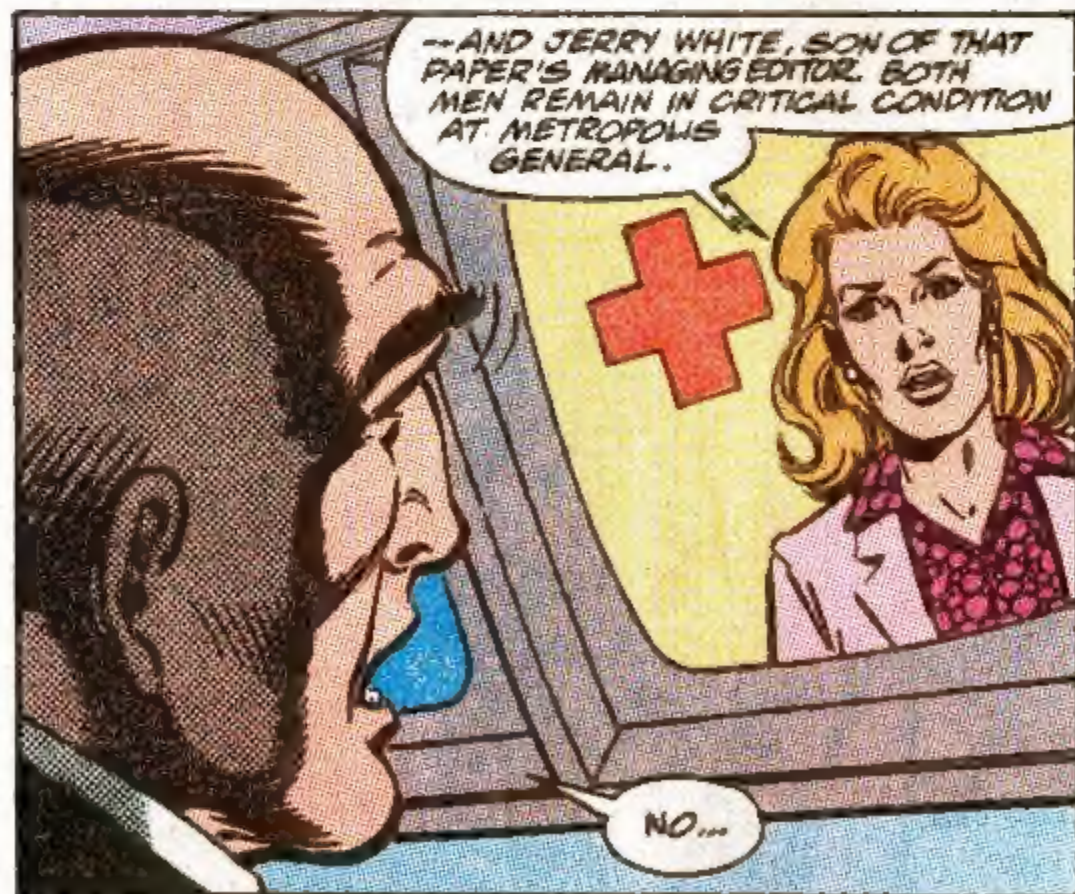

YES, MISTER LUTHOR!

MUST STAY CALM. CLEAR YOUR HEAD, LEX... WATCH THE NEWS...

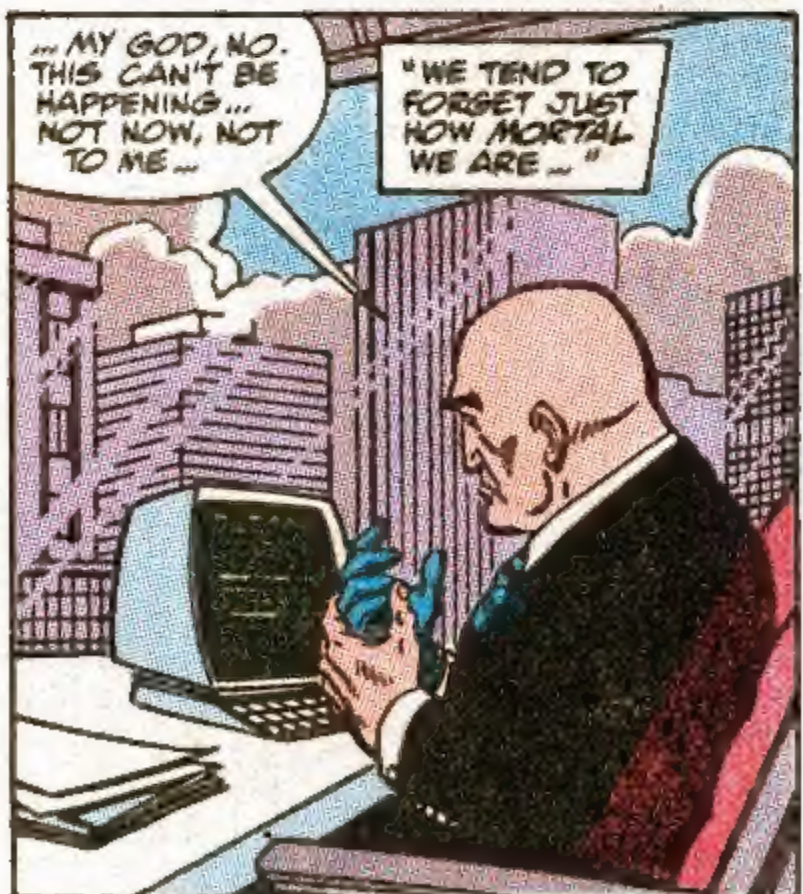

KL!K

--POLICE ARE STILL LOOKING FOR THE GUNMEN WHO SHOT DAILY PLANET PHOTOGRAPHER JAMES OLSEN--

--AND JERRY WHITE, SON OF THAT PAPER'S MANAGING EDITOR. BOTH MEN REMAIN IN CRITICAL CONDITION AT METROPOLIS GENERAL.

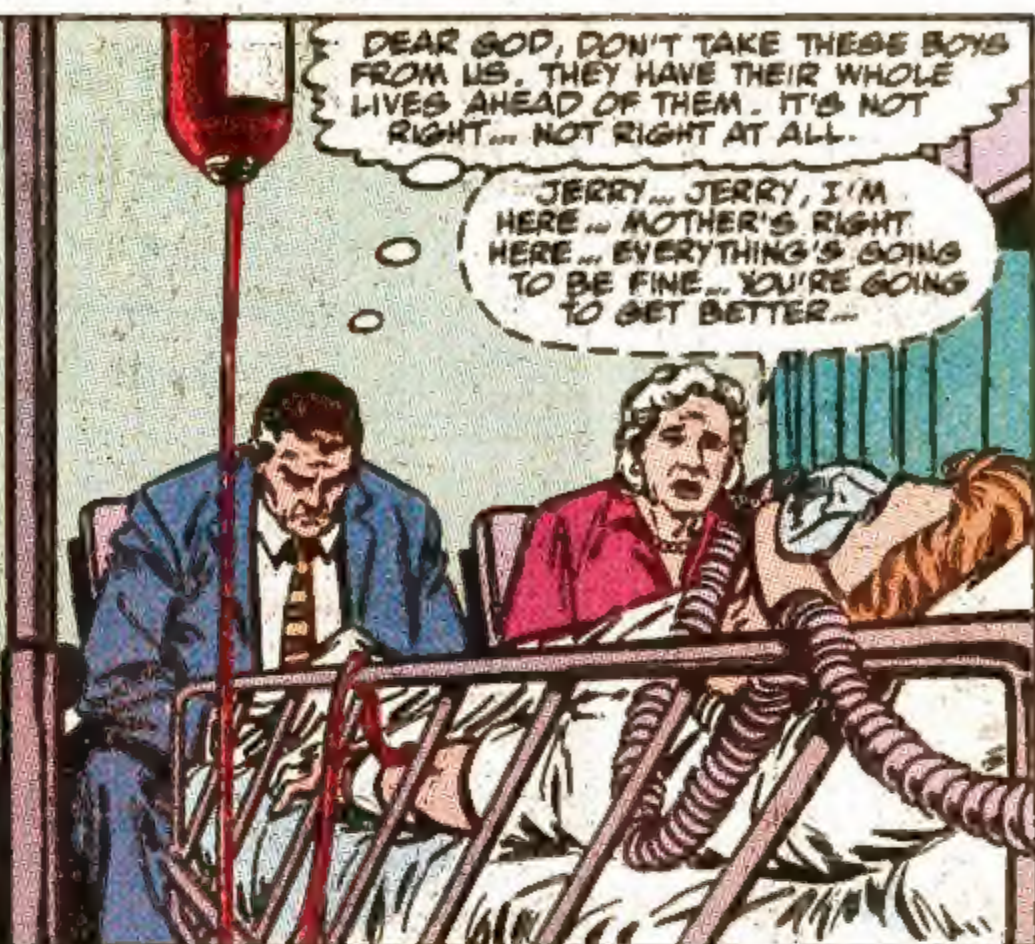

NO...

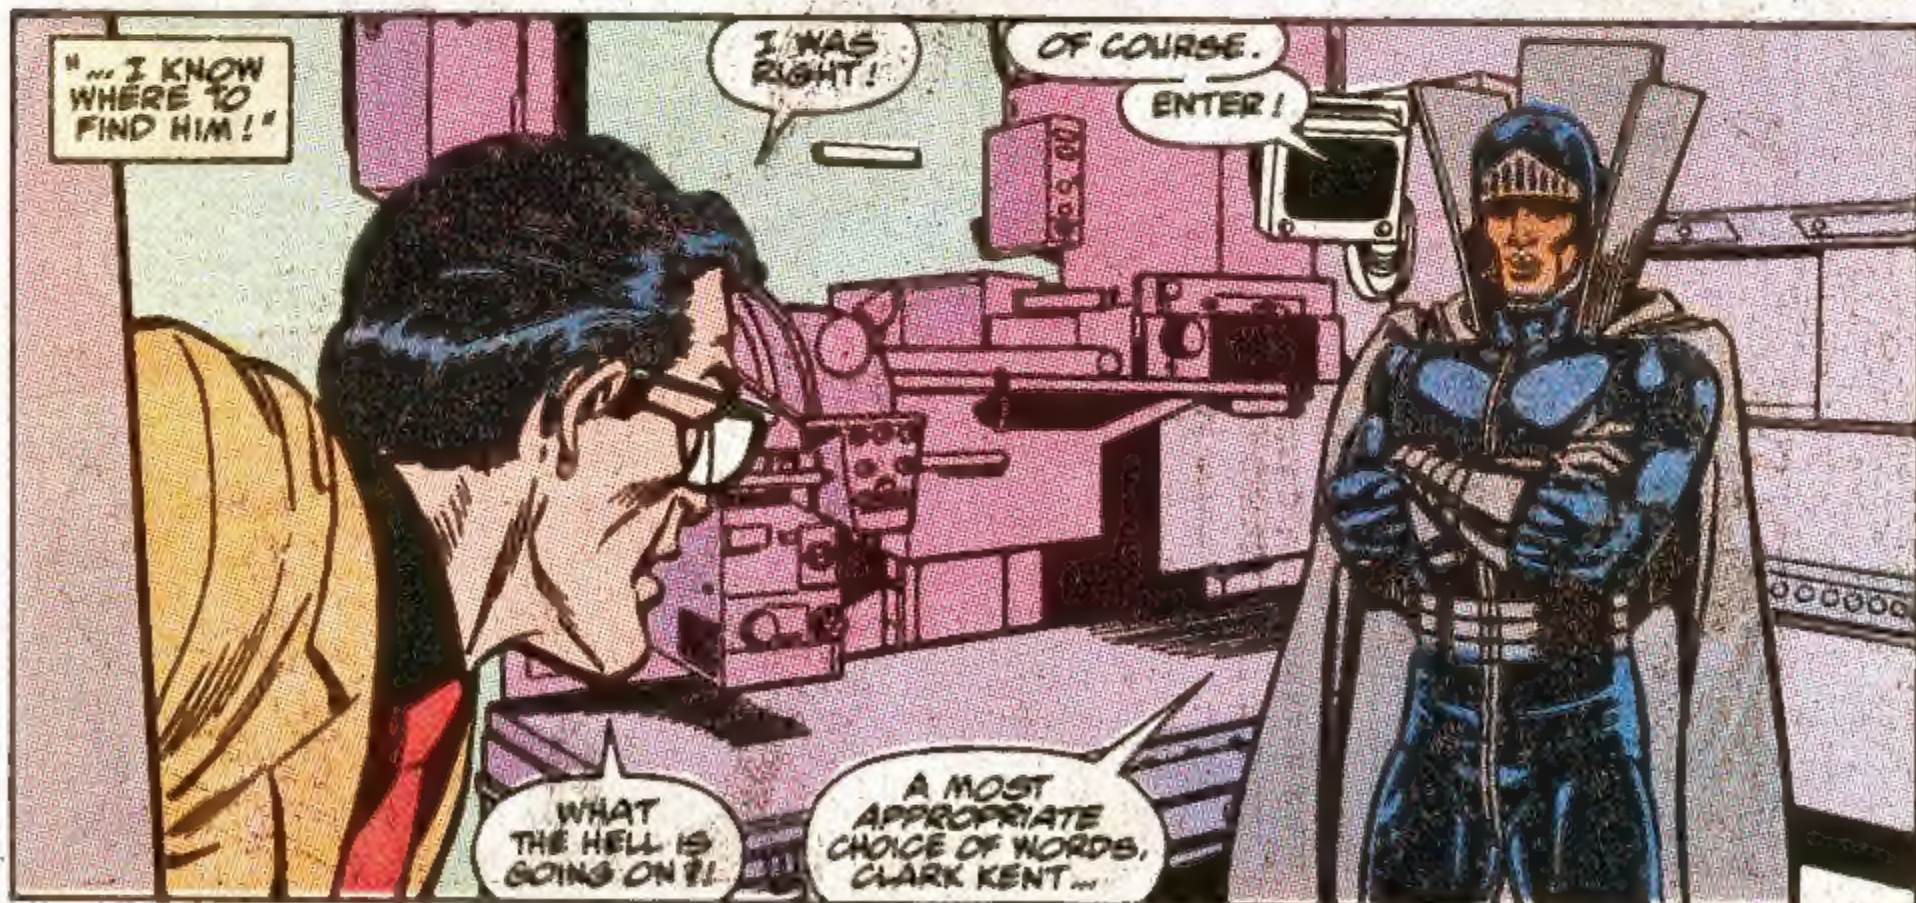

...MY GOD, NO. THIS CAN'T BE HAPPENING... NOT NOW, NOT TO ME...

"WE TEND TO FORGET JUST HOW MORTAL WE ARE..."

...FOR THOSE TWO YOUNG MEN ARE THE VICTIMS OF AN ENTITY OF INCALCULABLE EVIL!

UNLESS YOU ACT-- SOON-- THEY SHALL PERISH AND THEIR SOULS BE FORFEITED.

WHAT ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT? LOOK, I WANT SOME STRAIGHT ANSWERS...

WHO ARE YOU? WHY COULDN'T ANY-ONE ELSE SEE OR HEAR YOU? WHAT--?!

I AM THE BLACK RACER!

ONLY THOSE MORTALS NEAR DEATH CAN SEE ME, UNLESS I OTHERWISE ORDAIN.

IF I SO DESIRED, I COULD REMAIN INVISIBLE TO EVEN YOUR GREAT SENSES!

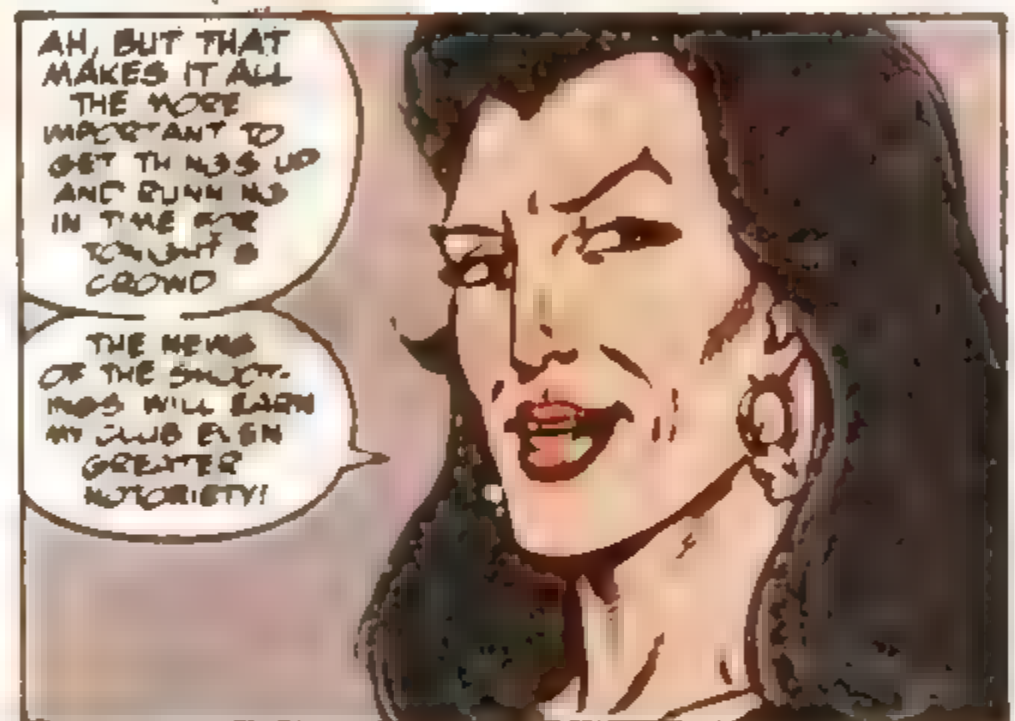

TO YOU, NOTHING. TO YOUR GARB, A SIMPLE MOLECULAR RE-ARRANGEMENT.

GOOD LORD! WHAT... WHAT HAVE YOU DONE--?

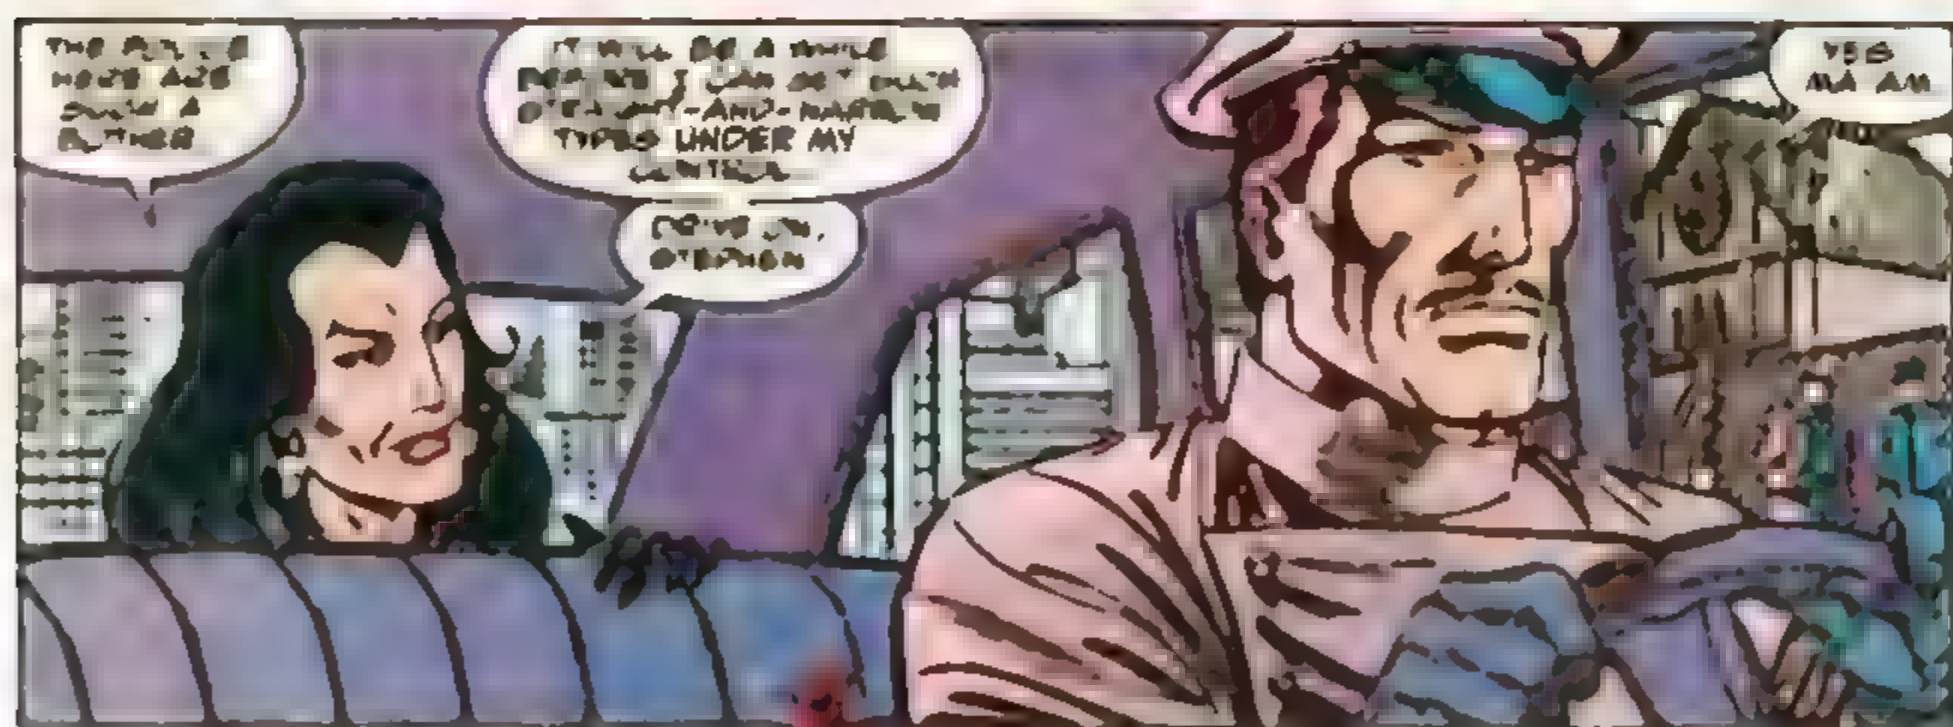

NO SECRETS ARE HIDDEN FROM THE BLACK RACER, SUPERMAN.

HEED WELL MY WORDS... THE ENTITY WHICH HAS OVERCOME YOUR FRIENDS HAS GAINED A FOOTHOLD ON THIS MORTAL PLANE...

... FIRST YOU SAID
THAT YOU CONTACTED ME
BECAUSE I AM THE ONLY
ONE WHO STANDS A CHANCE OF STOPPING THIS... WHAT-EVER-IT-IS THAT'S KILLING JIMMY AND JERRY.

NOW
YOU'RE SAYING THAT NO POWER
ON EARTH CAN SAVE THEM?!

BOTH STATEMENTS ARE TRUE YOU ARE NEEDED... BUT NOT ON THIS EARTH

I'LL HAVE YOU
KNOW I CAN'T GET FAR OFF-PLANET WITHOUT AN OXYGEN SUPPLY...
AND I DON'T LIKE BEING KEPT IN THE DARK!

MY REGRETS
I AM UNACUSTOMED TO WORKING IN THIS MANNER WITH A MORTAL BEING-- AND
THERE IS LITTLE TIME TO EXPLAIN.

I MUST ASK FOR YOUR TRUST.

IF YOU WANT MY TRUST, YOU COULD TELL ME MORE ABOUT WHO
YOU ARE AND WHY YOU'RE DOING THIS! AND WHERE YOU'RE TAKING ME!

I AM A MESSENGER, SUPERMAN.
WHEN THERE IS AN UNBAL-ANCE OF FORCES IN THE COSMOS, IT IS MY LOT TO DELIVER THE CORRECT
INFO FACTOR.

YOU ARE THAT FACTOR-- AND WE GO TO SAVE YOUR FRIENDS.

--BUT I AM EVER AWAKE FROM THEN I AM ONE OF MANY AND WE ARE ALL THE PLUCK RACER

MISTER, YOU'RE A BIGGER RIDDLE THAN THE PHANTOM STRANGER, AND THAT'S SAYING SOMETHING!

I TAKE IT THAT THIS TUBE LEADS TO THE ENTITY WHO'S ENDANGERED THE BOYS?

YEP, THAT'S IT, YEAH.

A SMALL, BUT DAMN CREaky TUBE.

THE DARKNESS AT THE TUNNEL'S END... I CAN'T SEE INTO IT AT ALL.

THAT IS THE DARKNESS OF THE HUMAN SPIRIT. IT IS OUR ONLY AVENUE OF ENTRY.

WELL, AT LEAST, SUPERMAN--

...AND THE HORRORS THAT MUST SHALL TEST
EVEN YOUR RESOLVE.

IT'S BEEN A LONG TIME
SINCE I'VE FELT THIS COLD!
HOW ARE WE SUPPOSED TO FIND OUR WAY THROUGH THIS--?

THE DARKNESS ITSELF
SHALL LEAD YOU ON.

RACER?
WHERE ARE YOU?

BUT WHAT DO
I DO?

I AM ALLOWED
NO FURTHER. THE FATE OF YOUR FRIENDS IS IN YOUR HANDS ALONE.

IF YOU SUCCEED,
A WAY WILL OPEN IF YOU DO NOT. IT WILL NOT MATTER!

AND HOW DO
I GET BACK?

YOU MUST ENCOURGE SUPERMAN!
I CAN SAY NO MORE.
THE SOURCE CALLS TO ME AND I MUST ANSWER.

WHAT HAVE YOU
LEFT ME INTO?

THE FINAL COURTESY THERE WILL BE GIVEN.

NOW COULD YOU NOT KNOW THAT?
NO! YOU HAVE POWER.
HOW CAN THIS BE? BLAZE
ALWAYS ONLY HER CREATURES TO WIELD POWER HERE. AND YOU ARE NOT ONE OF THEM.

NO, I'M SUPERMAN.
I WAS BROUGHT HERE
THROUGH... UNUSUAL
MEANS. AND THE ONLY
"BLAZE" I'M AWARE OF IS A NIGHTCLUB OWNER! WHO?

YOU MUST BELIEVE
ME. I DO NOTHING WRONG. I CAN YOUR POWER FREE ME
FROM THIS INFERNAL PIT?

I AM NOT SURE, BUT I'LL CERTAINLY TRY. I BELIEVE YOUR "BLAZE" IS THE ONE
I'VE COME TO FIND. TWO FRIENDS OF MINE ARE DYING, AND--

TWO?
YOUNG MEN?

YES! WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THEM?

BLAZE IS THE ULTIMATE TEMPTRESS... THE ETERNAL DECEIVER! IT IS BECAUSE OF HER TRICKERY THAT I AM HERE!

THEY ARE ALREADY IN BLAZE'S POWER.

FORGET THEM. THEY ARE DOOMED. WE MUST ESCAPE WHILE WE CAN!

NO! NOT UNTIL I'VE BEATEN BLAZE'S

YES!

BUT... I LEFT THEM...
BACK ON EARTH!
HOW -- ?

YOU
BODIES... THESE ARE THEIR BOULS!

AND THEY ARE MINE --
AS ARE YOU,

Dear Mike:

Re: ACTION COMICS #851

With Superman beginning to realize his "true calling" (thanks to the Eradicator), his new outlook, complete with scientific conclusions and deductive reasoning at the forefront instead of his powers, puts him on a par with a certain Dark Knight who I'm given to understand will soon appear here. By then, though, Supes will be his normal self again (can we hope?).

I hate to disappoint Superman, but Maxima will be back. Shoot, what with that babe being a more arrogant and lustful version of a certain Amazon, imagine if Superman had it out with Wonder Woman now, with his mind being where and what it is presently. How 'bout pitting Maxima against Diana in the future?

Dear Mike:

To be ... or not to be ... a Kryptonian? That is the question (or something like that).

Since the re-definition of Krypton as a cold, loveless place, I have wondered how Clark would reconcile this heritage with his childhood with the warm, loving Kents.

ACTION COMICS #851 began to answer my question. We see Clark/Superman with no compassion, and frankly, I don't like him this way. This issue highlights what makes Superman such a popular character—not only does he have incredible power, but this power is matched, measure for measure, by his capacity for caring for his fellow man. To see the power without the feeling is frightening.

I realize that Clark, with the Eradicator's help, will need to explore his origins, but I hope he learns that his upbringing in Smallville has given him something that Krypton never could. An alien he may be, but Superman's strength is his humanity.

Dear Superman:

Ever since John Byrne first conceived the remarkably realistic portrait of Krypton, I've found myself constantly looking for further details of the doomed world. Then along came the Eradicator, that wondrous piece of omnipotent technology, and you proved to us all that the Krypton story was far from dead.

Now, after all the Eradicator has done, I should've realized what exactly it really had in store for Superman. I mean, a machine so powerful as to completely supplant his socialization process here on Earth for the pure rationality of a Kryptonian is awesome. But I suppose that, genotypically speaking, Kal-El is more suited to the rational disposition, as it was (and no doubt continues to be) his heritage. Also, the beautifully altered Kryptonian mode of dress really enhances the effect!

But, of course, I have questions: First, why does his garb appear for only brief periods? It seemed to really infuse Kal-El with additional power in his confrontation with Maxima. Is it because it has a limited power source? If Superman's original personality is hidden in his subconscious, is it at all capable of resurfacing? If so, what happens to the Eradicator? What was that? Too many questions? Sorry!

Anyhow, I am really enjoying all your creative efforts on this story to date, and I am anxious to see the above firmly resolved!

Glenn, we hope that ACTION #852 answered all your questions about the Eradicator ... but it remains to be seen if Superman's Kryptonian nature will ever resurface.

*****

Dear Mike:

After finishing ACTION COMICS #851, I began to think how in fabulist fiction, like super-hero comics and fantasy/science-fiction, races or individuals who let reason and logic become the dominating forces in their lives are very often seen as tragic. We have the Vulcans in the Star Trek mythos, for example: creatures of unrivaled discipline and achievement, who are unable to laugh. It's funny how in other forms of fiction, though, such people are seen as heroes. Maybe it's because fabulist fiction operates so much on an emotional level that we as readers/writers are uncomfortable with a lack of emotion. Something to think about, anyway.

In part three of "The Day of the Krypton Man," we see how much more Superman has divorced himself from his human heritage. While I'm enjoying the story, especially the novelty of a cruel Clark Kent, I would like to see more multi-part stories that aren't concerned with Superman's internal problems. We've just had the "Exile" story line, and now this. A change would be nice.

Nice to see the "real" Maxima, especially with the new costume. Is it my imagination, or does she look like "Roxanna," from the "Time-Bird" stories?

Here's hoping that Draaga can pound some sense into Superman where Lobo and Maxima have failed...

Sean Twist

Sean, our latest multi-parter, the recent Superman/Batman adventure, did not involve the Man of Steel's inner turmoil ... hope you're happy! (And who says your Demand isn't our Command?)

*****

Dear Mike:

You may recall my saying in a past letter that I didn't think very highly of the Maxima character after reading her first appearance in ACTION #845. Well, I've just read ACTION #851, and I'm prepared to eat humble pie and declare publicly (that part's up to you, of course) that my first impression was totally wrong! Call me impetuous, call me impatient, call me Dale, but also call me a Maxima fan!

"Not of This Earth" was the most fun I've had from a comic this month. Roger Stern makes it look so easy, the way he creates believable responses from believable characters in fantastic situations. It was Maxima's misfortune that she should arrive on Earth while her intended husband is thoroughly under the sway of the Kryptonian Eradicator and, shall we say, not himself. Superman's words on page 13, which so stung the most arrogant witch I've ever seen in comics, were the product of the Eradicator, not Superman. I doubt if a normal Supes would have put his refusal quite that way, and we might have seen an entirely different ending to this story. As it is, Maxima went off the deep end and provoked her own downfall from a frighteningly uncompromising Man of Steel. That back-handed blow on page 20 was something Superman would ordinarily be incapable of. Such is the strength of my newfound fervor for Maxima that I dearly hope we shall soon see the highly narcissistic witch again. How a normal Superman will handle her intrigues me.

Not only was Maxima highly conceived but, thanks to George Perez, Kerry Gammill, and Brett Breeding, she was highly desirable, too! To be honest, George's influence was hard to detect. But the finished art was fantastic! After admiring the Perez cover, which strongly suggested to me the finishing of the great Murphy Anderson, I am still admiring the artwork inside, which has more than a feel of John Buscema to it. If there is a single page I can point to and hold up as my favorite, it is page 19. The sheer power of these illustrations is quite beyond my ability to put into words. Even the word "dynamic" doesn't do them justice. So before I embarrass myself further, I'll simply say "Nuff said."

The Krypton Man story line builds to a fascinating conclusion. I find it difficult to wait for new issues of the Superman books. Thank God I'm among the first to read them, in my capacity of manager of a comics shop! I'll close by asking Michael Eury how it feels to be on the "other side" of the ACTION COMICS letters pages. (I shared column space with you in issue #550, Michael!)

It feels great answering the Superman mail, Dale. It's a job I've wanted since I read the late E. Nelson Bridwell's lettercol replies when I was in high school in the early seventies.

*****

RE: ACTIONS IN ACTION: To the person who wrote the unsigned letter asking for a Superman/Darkseid clash—no immediate plans for such a battle. Besides, Darkseid's not having a very good time these days ... he's just been dethroned on Apokolips by a being mightier than he. We encourage you to pick up this month's NEW GODS #18 for details. Peter Gould of DeLand, FL, will be interested to learn that our recent Krypton Man issues and the simultaneous airings of the Jor-El and Lara two-parter on the "Superboy" TV show were merely coincidental ... and if you're not reading DC's monthly SUPERBOY comic (based on the hit TV series), then you're missing a treat! And to Uncle Elvis in Clarksville, TN—we informed Maxima that you're "available," as you wished, and she said she's planning on visiting you for a date soon ... but judging from the destruction she leaves in her wake, you'd best take the first train from Clarksville and get out of town!

*****

Dear Super-Team:

About ACTION COMICS #652: Well, who would have thought that Kryptonite would disrupt and de-program the Eradicator? You intrigued me this year by dismantling Superman's life—no home, no job, no friends, and almost no family. Then you "floored" me with a very simple answer to this complex story: Kryptonite! Of course! Anything Kryptonian would yield to Kryptonite radiation.

A complex story with a simple solution—you know how to grab a man's attention and keep it. You've earned my respect—again!

To flapping, tattered capes!

Alex—we plan on "flooring" you as much as possible with as many of our upcoming Super-stories as you can stand.

Next month, more of your reactions on ACTION #652's conclusion to the Krypton Man saga. We're sure you'll join us.

IN TWO WEEKS: in SUPERMAN #47 the Soul Search continues as Blaze throws Skyhook into the mix—pretty much guaranteeing her ultimate triumph over the Man of Steel and condemning the souls of Jimmy (Olsen) and Jerry (White) to eternal suffering. Ordway and Janke as usual in fourteen days!

IN THREE WEEKS: in ADVENTURES OF SUPERMAN #470 the Soul Search concludes as the Man of Steel makes his last-ditch attempt to wrest Olsen and White from Blaze's grasp—but even Superman is unable to save them both! Jurgens and Thibert as usual in twenty-one days!

IN FOUR WEEKS: in ACTION COMICS #657 the Toy Man returns by popular demand—as well as Super-Team reserve-member Kerry Gammill on pencils! The children of Metropolis are in grave danger as this menace—Toy Man, not Kerry—unleashes his latest insidious toys on the unsuspecting masses! Stern as usual, too, in twenty-eight days!

NOTE: There's been some confusion recently over the status of Superman's involvement in the "pocket universe," due to the events of LEGION OF SUPER-HEROES #4 and #5. Rest assured, the story where the Man of Steel was forced to execute the three Kryptonian villains remains intact. Simply put, the Time Trapper retroactively revoked his invitation to the Legion only—Superman was there ... the Legion was not. All of this will become clearer very soon in a multipart Superman/Legion of Super-Heroes crossover. Stay tuned for details.
